Tory Losses in Marylebone and Par-

The Irish Leader's Reception at Edinburgh Proves a Grand Ovation.

PROTESTS AGAINST ROYAL GREED Pouring in From All Over the Country, Many of Then From Good Tories.

The past week has been a smooth-running one for Ireland. The great Tory losses in the Marylebone district and the hearty reception tendered Parnell in Scotland have made the Grand Old Man and all home rulers very happy.

BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.] LONDON, July 20 .- [Copyright.]-In politics everything is running very smoothly for the Gladstonians, Parnellites and a good many generally, while the serenity of the prosperous Tory, the liver-colored Unionists and the turncoat is being seriously disturbed. The course of the Irish leader in withdrawing, with Sir Charles Russell, from the Parnell Commission, and leaving the judges to run the thing by themselves, in their own unfair way, without him, has produced a strong effect, and the Government appreciate the fact.

Last night and to-day everyone is full of the tremendous forward strides of home rule, as shown in yesterday's Marylebone election. The Tory majorities of 214 and 1,485 in 1885 and 1886 are reduced now to 493, and that in one of the strongest Tory constituencies in London, and with the Tories led by strong and popular local candidates. There is no serious attempt, even by the most bigoted coercionist, to explain away the significance of these figures.

NOT ALL ITS WOES. But this is not the full measure of the Government's woes. While Marylebone is turning against them Parnell, instead of being branded as a triend of murderers, as the Tories hoped he would be about now, is in Edinburgh, receiving the freedom of the city in a big silver casket, and stirring up and pathysissem as theeld town has ring up such enthusiasm as theold town has not witnessed in many a day. Compared to Parnell's reception, that of Salisbury, who went there a short time ago, was like the pep of a toy pistol compared to the discharge of artillery. Closely packed thousands filled the streets last night and cheered as the Irish leader drove from the station, and 50,000 Scotchmen gathered to try to hear his

As I write, your Edinburgh correspondent telegraphs that Parnell had a magnificent reception from the hard-headed Scots this soon when he drove to City Hall to receive the city's freedom, but this evening, when Lord Aberdeen, a former Vicerov of Ireland, presided at an im-mense public meeting in Parnell's honor. A letter from Mr. Gladstone was read, in which a tribute was eloquently paid to Par-nell's conservatism and moderation and to the restraining influence of the Irish leaders in the great national agitation. The Grand Old Man's letter was read by Lord Aberdeen, to a running accompaniment of chequer, moved and Herbert Gladstone, the worthy son of his great father, seconded a resolution welcoming the Irish leader to Edinburgh, and Parnell made a great speech, breathing confidence of coming triumph and emphasizing the Liberal-Na-tionalist alliance.

Altogether, it has been a great day for Ireland. To add still further to the Gov-ernment's discomfort, they find themselves compelled, as humble Tory subjects and well-paid office-holders HANKERING FOR ROYAL FAVOR, to force upon the people payment of fresh sums to support the large and steadily increasing litters of princes and princesses.

Nothing in years has roused such wide spread popular indignation as this demand for more money for the Guelph family, and it is natural. The Prince of Wales has led the life of a jolly good fellow and enthus astic spendthrift, and the nation has paid for it. Queen Victoria has kept up her palaces, raised her family and saved for her-self over £1,000,000, all with public money, and now the royal family wants more: more for the Prince of Wales, more for his eldest son, more for Louise, the young woman about to marry, and QUEEN VICTORIA ADDS FINE HUMOR to the thing by definitely sending word to the royal commission appointed to consider the question of grants, that it must be understood that any contribution made by her loyal subjects now must not be surrounded such restrictions as would interfere with the royal prerogative to ask again for more, should such a step be deemed advisable-which, by the way, it probably will.

Protests against this royal piggishness come from all over the country, many of them from Tories, and in all kinds of forms To-morrow a mass meeting of protestation is to be held in Hyde Park, and minor similar meetings are being held all over the

The Liberal Club of Barking, in Essex, has developed originality, for in its resolu-tion protesting against further royal grants it recommends that Parliament shall so amend the vagrancy act as to place THE ROYAL BEGGARS on the same footing as others. The Govern ment appreciates so thoroughly the irritated state of public feeling that instead of forcing the royal votes through Parliament by force of numbers, as they did with the coercion and similar bills, they hesitate, and are trying to patch up some modified form of royal grants, so as to get the approval of the Grand Old Man, and at the same time not

Gladstone is on the Royal Grants Commis sion, and if only his signature can be obtained to a report recommending the grants, the Tory managers feel that he will share with them the popular disfavor. The old man, however, is crafty as well as grand, and while he does not want unnecessarily to offend the Queen, who could make it unpleasant for him when next Prime Minister, he will probably arrange to have the Tories

It is amusing to observe, by the way, that the Queen, in spite of all her royal dignity as such, has found it convenient, just at this time when she needs votes, to inform her loyal commoners that she wants photo-graphs and autographs of each one of them who sat in the House of Commons during

KILL ME, KILL MY DOG.

The Singular Manner in Which Mr. Riley Proved His Affection.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. LONDON, July 20 .- A small dog recently deceased in Dublin has been made to understand clearly what the course of true love really is, also that two is company, and that it is not well for a dog to come in as a third party. Christopher Riley, an elderly man, was in love with a young woman, who had made him a present of a small dog, as a proof of her affection. When things went wrong, he decided to drown himself, went wrong, he decided to drown himself, and jumped into the Liffey, at North Wall. First, however, he tied the little dog to one of his legs. The man was rescued, but the dog was both strangled and drowned.

In a letter addressed to his aweetheart, which was found upon him, Mr. Riley told that he had tied the dog to his leg, intending to take it with him to another world, in order that the sight of the little animal might not cause the lady to fret after Mr.

GORGEOUS AND SUCCESSFUL. Mrs. Mackay Gives One of Her High-Toned

(BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.) LONDON, July 20,-Mrs. Mackay's reception and concert last Monday, was a very gorgeous and successful affair. Lillie Lehman, Shakespeare Viterbo, and many others sang, Johannes Wolff played the violin, and a very distinguished crowd dined first and then spent the time eating and drinking cold things, especially ices and champagne.

The Princess Louise, one of the Queen's daughters, was there with her husband, the Marquis of Lorne; also Sackville, once the silly Minister to Washington, and a lot of other distinguished people, including Mr. Matthews, the Pennsylvania Commissioner for the Paris archibition. for the Paris exhibition

WHERE IS WIDOW M'CAUL.

She Dazzles Bridgewater and Thez Disappears, Leaving a Large Estate Behind.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BRIDGEWATER, July 20 .- The wealthy Widow McCaul, who is believed to have been the spouse of a rich Chicago speculator, came to this town a few years ago and purchased a fine estate just outside the business center. She had plenty of money, was attractive and entertaining, and won friends by the score. She laid out a small fortune on the estate, and work was commenced on a house that promised to be an elegant affair. When the house was well under way the widow mysteriously disappeared, but was supposed to be traveling somewhere in Europe with her daughter. The building was nearly ready for occupancy when it was burned, and there have been numerous lawsuits connected with the contractors' jobs on the structure, but the widow has remained absent throughout the whole controversy, and her present whereabouts are unknown.

The question now is, where is the Widow McCaul? She dazzled the good people of this country town with the splender of her presence and disappeared while they were rubbing their eyes to see if they were awake or asleep. Nothing has been heard from her in a long time, and her estate is to be sold to satisfy the demands of the tax collector. If Mrs. McCaul or her legal representatives do not soon put in an appearance the people will begin to believe she is a myth, in spite of the presence of the estate upon which she expended so much money.

CONVICTS MUST HAVE PIECE WORK. Preparations for Patting the Fassett Law

in Operation. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SARATOGA, N. Y., July 21.-State Superintendent of Prisons Austin Lathrop, accompanied by his secretary, the Hon E. K. Baker, and Wardens Charles H. Durston, of Auburn, Isaiah Fuller, of Dannemora, and A. A. Brush, of Sing Sing, are in session here and in consultation as to the most feasible way of putting the Fassett law in operation. There are in the prisons of this State about 3,400 men. Of these, about 600 are needed for the care of the prisons, leaving 2,800 for whom work must be furnished by the wardens of the three prisons, and on the basis of $500,000 appropriated for this purpose by the Legislature last winter. This sum being insufficient for nutting all the men at work it was decided putting all the men at work, it was decided that about 1,800 will be put to work at the State's account, and the others, of necessity, Aberdeen, to a running accompanion to cheers, which culminated in a scene of wild enthusiasm. Then Parnell was presented with 150-addresses by delegates representing as many Scotch Liberal Associations, headed by a real live Earl, viz., Lord Elgin, headed by a real live Earl, viz., Lord Elgin, on each of the last three sorts of work. The wardens still have the piece-price problem to solve. All the bids so far received are of such defective form that none could be ac-

THE SALT COMBINE NO TRUST.

It Repudiates the Name, but Intends to Me nopolize the Trade If It Can. NEW YORK, July 20 .- The North Amer ican Salt Company, the incorporation of which was noted in a dispatch from Albany last night, occupies two columns in this evening's papers with its advertisement. Its capital stock is $11,000,000, and it proposes to issue $4,000,000 worth of bonds. The advertisement states the object of the company is to unify and systematize the salt interests of the country. The prospectus states that arrangements have been made for the purchase or control of nearly all the salt-pro-ducing properties on the North American continent, and that these number 130 differen works and companies. It is also stated that a "liberal dividend" can be declared.

In its prospectus the company insists that it is not a trust, and as a proof of this insists that anybody may buy stock who will pay for it

A London cable says: Five-sixths of the amount of capital stock in the American Salt Company reserved for Great Britain has already been subscribed by shareholders in the Salt union. A premium of 15 shillings is already offered on the shares of the new company. Lists will be opened in London on Monday next. Lists will be opened in New York on the same day.

HUNTED WITH BLOODHOUNDS. An Escaped Convict Tracked With Dogs and Restored to Captivity. LOUISVILLE, July 20 .- Booker Weaver, convict who escaped from the Eddyville Penitentiary yesterday morning, was re-captured late in the afternoon with the aid of bloodhounds. Weaver had been gone several hours when his escape was noticed. He had used every endeavor to destroy his trail, awimming across both the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers several times, but the dogs took his track and never lost it. The guards on horseback kept up with the hounds. Weaver made no resistance and wasn't hurt.

$1,000,000 IN DISPUTE. An Error to That Extent la the Accounts

One Firm. MINNEAPOLIS, July 20 .- The examina tion of the charges brought by the Nicollette National Bank against Shotwell, Clerihew & Lothman was continued before Judge Lochren to-day. The most of the time was occupied by Judge Shaw, who appears for the plaintiff. He argued that there was a wrong disposition of nearly $1,000,000 of the delinquent firm's funds. The evidence presented before Referee Booth was read at length. It was claimed a day or so before making the assignment the members of the firm drew out $600 apiece and converted it to their own use.

LITTLE TALK ON FINANCES

Which Doesn't Go Far Toward Clearing Away the Existing Fog.

Becoming a Serious Question the Valley.

The financial question has become the only topic at Johnstown aside from the liquor question, which is really serious now.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. JOHNSTOWN, July 20 .- Mr. S. S. Marvin and Secretary J. B. Kremer, of the Flood Relief Commission, were in town to-day. They visited the commissary and other relief headquarters and expressed themselves as pleased with what they saw. Mr. Kremer says that over $1,706,000 has already been expended in Johnstown, not including the $500,000 now being paid out. He did not give figures to show clearly where this money had gore, but said it exceeded $1,700,000. One hundred homes had been bought and contracted for, con ing $160 each; 100 costing each, and 200 two-story homes to be builty Contractor Hughes at $260. In addition 52 business stands had been built at a co of $425 each. This would make a total $109,950. In addition some money was spe for coffins, lumber and the like. Over three fourths of the money coming into the han of Governor Beaver direct was for the su below the ferers in the Conemaugh Valley. The balance was for the flood sufferers of Pensylvania. Mr. Kremer said that it wellkely the Williamsport region would ganother appropriation, as it seemed they have received their share.

WHY A STATEMENT ISN'T MADE. When asked why a clear statement of the moneys received and expended was not made he said there was difficulty in determining as to what fund certain items should be charged—such, for instance, as the burial of the dead. It was a question, he said, whether the State had a right to pay for that, and until these questions were determined it was not considered proper to make a statement.

Judge Cummin only spent a short time at his office this morning, he being somewhat ill, and Treasurer Thompson assisted him in his share of the work. This was the biggest day's work yet and the whole force was kept busy till 6 o'clock. Altogether $20,342 was paid out during the day.

Only two bodies were taken to the morgue to-day, one being the body of a woman, who had first been discovered near Coopersdale by a woman several days ago.

Captain Kuhn has concluded to discontinue all the other commissaries except the one at the Pennsylvania Railroad station, and the force of clerks will be very largely reduced. There are now only about 1,400 persons subsisting from the commissaries.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION. Father Field, chaplain of the Red Cross, talked here to-night on "High Wages and What to Do With Them." He had a large audience of workingmen and held their attention for several hours. His remarks bore particularly on the temperance question. A vigorous effort will be made to stop the selling of so much liquor here.

They discharged about 50 last night, and the contractors said that as long as the salcons were kept open they could not hold their men together if the order directing the discharge of men under the influence of liquor was to be kept in force. Captain Hamilton said he could not consent to revoking the order, but he hoped steps would be taken soon to abate the nuisance of so much drinking. The Burgesses of some of the boroughs, he said, had joined him in an appeal to Judge Johnston to again close the salcons, and he hoped to have the united support of all of them. If no attention were paid to these pleas some other steps would have to be taken.

The waters in the creeks rose several feet last night on account of the heavy rains, and much driftwood lodged against the temporary bridges, and it was feared that

JUSTICE IN KENTUCKY.

Peculiar Proceedings Refers Two Just Freedom of the Press Involved. LOUISVILLE, July 20 .- At Elizabeth town, Ky., yesterday, Editors Stovall and Duncan, of the Hardin county Independent, and Editor Giyans, of the Welcome Tidings, were tried for publishing a letter signed "Judge Lyach," threatening punishment to a young man, who, it was alleged, had killed his wife, but had been whitewashed by a Coroner's jury. Messrs. Stovall and Duncan were convicted by Justice O'Meara and sent to jail. Mr. Givansswore O'Meara and sent to jail. Mr. Givansswore O'Meara off the bench and was tried by Magistrate Terry, who dismissed the prisoner, though the offense and evidence were the same in both cases. Justice O'Meara didn't order his prisoners sent to jail and they walked out of the courtroom. Public opinion is said to be with the editors.

Grace Parker Eloped, but the Police Now Have Her in Charge. SIOUX FALLS, DAK., July 20 .- Chief of Police Donohue has arrested Miss Grace Parker, of Kansas City, Mo., on a telegram from the girl's mother, stating that Grace had run away to meet Fred Foreman, s traveling photographer, now in this city. The girl at first stated that she was from New York, but finally admitted her home was in Kansas City. She pretended to be in a trance and kept up the sham for several hours. The officers, however, stayed by her and are holding her until the arrival of her mother, who expects to be here to-day. Foreman has disappeared and the girl refuses to talk.

nother Big Scheme for Utilizing the Power of Ningara Falls.

BUFFALO, July 20.—It has just been made known that Colonel Hamilton, of Kansas, whose scheme for the construction of a great generator of electricity under Ningara Falls came so near getting through the Legislature, has obtained a grant from Sir John MacDonald, Premier of Canada, for the erection of his machinery under the Canadian Horseshoe Fall. The work has been done very quietly in order not to arouse opposition. No trouble is expected from the Canadian Park Commissioners. The Colonel's ingenious machinery will, in all probability, be placed in the Queen Victoria Niagara Falis Park. The Cave of the Winds plan will probably have to be medified, for the cave in the rear of the Horseshoe Fall is quite insignificant.

It was said that Colonei Gzowsk, the celebrated engineer, of Toronto, who built the international bridge, is interested in the new company, also Engineer Thomas Evershed, of Rochester, and ex-Governor Cornell. A meeting of the stockholders is to be held in Alexandria, Va., next Wednesday to take steps to place the company in actual working operation. It is said the capital stock is $20,000,000, part of which remains unsold. of Ningara Falls. FATHER FIELD TALKS ON THE LIQUOR.

3500 to Anyone Not Using The True Tailor System If they will cut as perfect a fitting garment of any kind and give such exquisite grace and beauty to the form as I will with my system, using only a tailor's square and tape measure, which is every tailor's eutit and should be yours.

In regard to the claims of the so-called "tailor systems" I will simply remark that any method which does not use a tailor's square and tape measure independent of pieces of pasteboard or graded scales cannot properly be called a tailor avertern.

So do not be deluded or persuaded into buying or using a set of "graded scales," charts, models or machines called "tailor systems."
